Good morning, Iris.

Just a quick note to let you know I do try to keep up with my professional reading . . . and was impressed with your article in the current issue of The Kappan. Nice job!

Tom

Thanks so much, Tom. I appreciate it! Hope things are going well with you. There is now a second book in our family published by Rowman & Littlefield! It's title is "Eating Dangerously . . .", written by my son-in-law, Michael Booth, and a co-author. Mike is a journalist and a great writer. The book should sell well!

With my best regards,

Iris
